

Starting-up a new site

You have connected your industrial site to the natural gas transmission network and your new site will start-up soon? All through your first consumption year, GRTgaz offers you the possibility to adjust your delivery capacity.

Principles

During the first year after starting-up a new site, the annual subscription of daily capacity (i.e. your delivery timeframe) may be:

- During the 3 months following the first day of subscription of daily capacity or delivery timeframe: it is modified every month upwards or downwards
- During each of the following 9 months: it is modified upwards or respectively downwards
- At the end of 12 months: it is fixed without reference to the previous variations

Article 4.1., Section C of the Transmission Contract provides for the above rule.
